

David Zogg

lic. iur. HSG

Prosecutor, Public Prosecutor's Office of the Canton of Zürich
(Economic Crimes), Switzerland

David Zogg is a prosecutor with the Zurich Cantonal Office of the Public Prosecutor specialized on serious economic (financial) crimes, where he leads the Investment Fraud and Corruption Team.

Prior to his appointment in 2010 as a public prosecutor in Zurich, David Zogg was a financial crimes investigator with other cantonal investigative bodies. He has been active in the field of financial crime investigation since 2003. He feels privileged to have had the opportunity to work on numerous high-profile fraud and corruption investigations during the course of his career, most recently investigating and successfully prosecuting large-scale corruption and fraud charges surrounding the public pension fund of the Canton of Zurich.

David Zogg studied law and economics at the University of St. Gallen (HSG), where he obtained his law degree (lic. iur.) in 2001.
