

Biography Andrew Feinstein:

Andrew Feinstein is Executive Director of Corruption Watch, a London based NGO which details and exposes the impact of bribery and corruption on democracy, governance and development.

Educated at the University of Cape Town, the University of California at Berkeley and King's College, Cambridge, Andrew is the author of 'The Shadow World: Inside the Global Arms Trade', which is currently being made into a feature documentary, and 'After the Party: Corruption, the ANC and South Africa's Uncertain Future.'

Andrew is a former African National Congress Member of Parliament. He resigned when the government refused to allow an unfettered investigation into the South African arms deal, which was tainted by allegations of significant, high level corruption. He was the ranking ANC member of Parliament's Public Accounts Committee and served as Deputy Chairman of South Africa's Audit Commission.

Andrew was named as one of the 100 most influential people globally working against armed violence, and was voted, along with two colleagues, as South Africa's 'Anti-corruption Hero' in late 2014.

Andrew lives in London with his wife and two children.
