

Prosecutor Exchange Program

- PEP currently has participants from over 60 different prosecution agencies from around the globe.
- Designed to be flexible to meet needs of participants:
  - One way exchanges
  - Bi-lateral exchanges

Goal of the PEP

- Building relationships between prosecution offices
- Sharing of expertise and experience among prosecution offices
- Contribute to the professional development of prosecutors and the offices that they serve

How the PEP works

Participating office should be an organizational member of the IAP

- Nominate a PEP Coordinator for the office
  - Should be a senior person in the office
- Register: Participating Office registers with the PEP
- When a new PEP participant joins the program, all existing PEP participants are notified.

How to Register

- Contact Nicola Mahaffy, one of the PEP coordinators for the IAP.
  - Nicola.mahaffy@gov.bc.ca

Nicola will walk you through the process

Registering with the PEP

- When Registering:
  - Provide name and contact information for the PEP coordinator for the office
  - State area of interest in the PEP
    - Mentoring other prosecutors, training, sharing knowledge, professional development opportunity, etc.
  - Indicate if the office would like to send a prosecutor to another office or receive a prosecutor into their office?
  - Indicate if the office has expertise in a particular which they are willing to share through training and mentoring.
  - Indicate if the office is seeking assistance or training in a particular area
  - State time range for exchange (eg: 2 weeks, 3 months, etc...)

How the PEP Works

Once registered:

- All of the information is put into a PEP manual which is updated and sent out to all of the PEP participants
- PEP participants must proactively review the manual and seek out and connect with other offices that have skills and interests that are a match

- IAP does not coordinate exchanges

- IAP provides PEP participants with the contact information and the interests of the other participants
  - Up to offices to arrange and coordinate exchanges
