

Bob Seeman

Summary Bio

- Bob Seeman is the Managing Partner of CyberCurb and advises business and government on the intersection of law, policy, technology and business.
- He holds a Bachelor of Applied Science (Elec. Eng.) with Honours from the University of Toronto, a Master of Business Administration from EDHEC, and a Juris Doctor (J.D.) from the University of British Columbia.
- He is the author of the book “The Coinmen”, the most comprehensive critique of bitcoin.
- He is a Senior Advisor at Endeavor which identifies and industrializes game changing technology for the US Government.
- He is also a co-founder of RIWI Corp., a global data analytics company, and has been a consultant to a cryptocurrency tracing company.
- He is a California attorney, electrical engineer and entrepreneur, was a Head of Strategy for Microsoft in London and a technical consultant to the European Commission.
- Bob previously practiced administrative law with Norton Rose Fulbright.