

Synopsis of the presentation on the Digital Transformation Canada's Criminal Justice System
International Association of Prosecutors
September 2022
Tbilisi, Georgia

By David Antonyshyn, Deputy Director of Public Prosecutions, Public Prosecution Service of Canada

Canada is a federal country whose criminal justice system is comprised of participants acting independently from one another. As a result, there is not a single digital plan and/or set of tools and processes integrated into a cohesive whole. The picture of the digital transformation across the country is therefore fragmented and diverse. It is occurring at varying pace, along different axes, and is taking different forms, depending on the part of the country and the participants involved. This presentation will offer a broad illustrative overview of that reality.
