

Biography:

MIKE J. CHIBITA

Mike J. Chibita is the Director of Public Prosecutions of Uganda. He supervises over 600 members of staff deployed in over 100 stations countrywide. His office has specialised departments dealing with cases of corruption, Gender, Children and Sexual offences, International Crimes like terrorism, human trafficking in addition to handling all the other felonies and misdemeanours.

Prior to becoming the DPP, Chibita served as a judge of the High Court of Uganda for three years starting in 2010. Before that he served as Executive Assistant to Commissioner General of Uganda Revenue Authority, Legal Assistant to the President of Uganda, Personal Assistant to the Attorney General, among others.

He graduated from Makerere University Law School in 1988, was called to the Ugandan Bar in 1990 and completed his LL,M in International and Comparative Law at the University of Iowa in 1992.

He is married to Monica and they have five children, has authored an autobiography, Loved by the Best, and enjoys playing tennis ever since he retired from playing rugby and soccer.