

Biography:

Rasmus Kieffer-Kristensen currently serves as Deputy Director of Public Prosecutions in the Danish Prosecution Service. Rasmus Kieffer-Kristensen is a graduate of Copenhagen University (LL.M 00) and New York University (LL.M 02). Before taking up his current position, he has worked as senior prosecutor, judge, and defense counsel. He has also held a range of senior positions in the Danish Government most recently as senior diplomat. As prosecutor, he has prepared and argued numerous criminal trials, including cases involving large-scale organized crime and Supreme Court appeals. He has also pleaded before international courts and tribunals on behalf of the Danish Government.